d) EON's advanced metering and billing infrastructure supports a billing and collection efficiency of around 99%, meeting global performance benchmarks.

e) EON maintains zero commercial losses and delivers near-zero downtime operations through a highly automated and technology-driven utility model.

f) EON's performance demonstrates that a specialized SEZ-based private utility can not only meet but exceed public distribution standards in reliability, efficiency, and regulatory compliance

g) Gramercy, along with its Parent Company, Eon Kharadi infrastructure Pvt Ltd., has all the technical and management expertise for undertaking the licensed distribution business.

h) Gramercy has submitted the necessary documents to MERC against compliance of the Electricity Act, 2003 and Distribution of Electricity Licence (additional requirements of Capital Adequacy, Creditworthiness and Code of Conduct) Rules, 2005, as amended from time to time, for grant of Distribution Licence.
