SC status quo on well at Sambhal mosque

THERE WILL BE no worship or holy bath at the well near the Shahi Jama Masjid in Sambhal in Uttar Pradesh. On Friday, the in Uttar Pradesh. On Friday, the Supreme Court stayed the execution of a "notice" purportedly issued by Sambhai municipal authorities, regarding the well. It sought a status report in two weeks even as the UP government contended that the well was situated on government land. This, after the mosque management committee said that the notice, a public poster which bore the name of the Sambhai Nagar Palika, referred to the well as being located in a to the well as being located in a form of the samb of the s cammai Nagar Paikk, referred to the well as being located in a corner of the Hari Mandir. Hindus and Muslims have been locked in a dispute over the mosque, with the former claiming that the mosque was built after destroying a temple called Hari Mandir.

'Any disputed structure should not be called a mosque'

BHUPENDRA PANDEY Lucknow, January 10

AMID A SERIES of temple mosque disputes, with several suits pending before various courts, UP CM Yogi Adityanath said on Friday that any disputed structure should not be called a mosque. "Kisi bhi vivadit dhaanche ko masjid nahi bolna chahiye. Hum jis din masjid bolsa bandh kar denge, uss din log jaana bhi bandh kar denge. Wasse bhiyeh Islam ke sidihanto ke khidag fia ik lisi si bhi aastha nasjid-numa dhaancha khada kar diya ha, sia sthaan par kisi prakara ki hone waali ibadat Eluda ka bhi nagsiow aabi ibat prakaar ki none waaa souaaa Khuda ko bhi manjoor nahi hoti hai. Islam me upasana ke liye structure ki zaroorat nahi hai, structure ki zaroorat nahi hai, jab ki yeh Sanatan Dharm me hai; he said. ("Any disputed structure should not be called a mosque. The day we stop calling it a mosque, people will stop going there. Hurting anyone's faith by constructing amosque-like structure does not align with Islamic principles, worst principles with stables in the construction of the constructi God too. Islam does not man-

Got 100. Islam does not man-date the construction of a struc-ture for worship, unlike Sanatan Dharma.")

Adityanath was speaking at an event hosted by Aaj Tak in Mahakumbh Nagar, Prayagraj, His remarks come at a time when the SC has barred civil courts across the country from registering fresh suits chalienging the ownersin pand title of any place of worship, and from ordering surveys of dis-puted religious places until fur-ther orders. Responding to claims of the Maha Kumbh being held on Waqf Board land, Adityanath said the event was being held at the site in Prayagraj for thou-imbalances: low-density, nigh-income areas like Lutyens Delhi occupy disproportionate land compared to crowded unautho-rised colonies and resettlement areas, where 73% of the popula-tion resides on just 5 6% of the land. These areas lack basic amenities like schools, greenery, and open spaces. Government initiaties like PMAY aim to address housing Issues by offering financial aid for self-built homes or group housing. However, effective urban planning and land alloca-tion remain critical. On affordable housing

SHILPARUMAR As impact investors, we were intrigued by the aspirations of India's 'next half billion'' - drivers, carpenters, electricians — who earn around ₹25,000 a month and drive the nation's growth. As India urbanises, with cities becoming major job hubs, we wondered: what happens to their quality of life? This series explored that question from

DEBARPITA ROY: A recent report by an industry association and a real association and a real estate consultancy defined affordable housing as homes priced up to ₹50 lakh. According to banking benchmarks, this corresponds to house arming wideo ₹10-12.5 lakh annuvally. However, the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs under PMAY-U defines the middle-income group as

On problems with housing

PARIII AGARWAL: India's housing sector faces a dual chal-lenge: addressing inadequate housing stock and preparing for 400 million new urban residents by 2050. Over one-third of urban residents live in informal housog 2000 Overlone-Imroot uman residents live in informal hous-ing, lacking basic amenities like tollets, water and durable struc-tures. This inadequacy is stark, with 409 to Debh residents liv-ing in substandard housing. While housing is often seen as an investment for financial returns, there's a compelling need to reframe it as a human right. Much like food and clorh-ling are essential, housing should be viewed as linegal to dignity and well-being. Policies and reg-ulations must evolve to reflect this perspective, moving beyond technical standards that deem 250 sqf radequate for families.

On issues faced by migrants

MUKTA NAIK: India's rapid MUKTA NAIK: India's rapid urbanisation is significantly fuelled by migration, with a third of the population classified as migrants. Among them, rural-to-urban and urban-to-urban migrants make up 20% each, spanning diverse groups such as aspirational middle-class households earning ₹25,000-₹30,000, constructionworkers, and seasonal ural-tomovorkers, and seasonal ural-₹25,000-₹30,000, construc-tionworkers, and seasonal rural-urban labourers. These individ-uals often reside in informal rentals, which lack tenure secu-rity, proper regulations, and quality standards.

On government intervention

SHILPA KUMAR: Recognis-SHIPAKUMAR Recognising the need for security, the Jaga Mission granted land entitlement certificates to long-term residents, even without format titles. This enabled access to financial benefits ted to housing and allowed the provision of essential city services, transforming living conditions. Beyond infrastructure, slum rivabler associations were dweller associations were formed to maintain and improve communities, creating open spaces for shared use.
